

CHARLES FLETCHER, MBE

An award-winning broadcaster and journalist, Charles has extensive international experience in media development. A pioneer in distance learning, he successfully developed online training support for journalists in Europe from the BBC World Service in London and Caledonia Media in Edinburgh. Acknowledged for his innovative skills, Charles is leading the development of Scotland's community radio sector, now the largest independent radio network in the country. A William Benton Fellow at the University of Chicago, he is Parliamentary Editor and presents the radio program The Week in Holyrood and the TV program, Today in Holyrood. He has created a dynamic daily radio news service branded 60 Seconds Scotland broadcast on FM and online.
